イギリス人教師:D氏の"The にっぽん☆ワンダーランド"

My first impression of Japan was in Osaka when I stepped off the plane, we had to take trains to our next destination. Watching everyone standing in an orderly line to board the train was unbelievable. No pushing, no rushing. Just a calm, mannerly way of boarding the trains. Yet what shocked me the most was that each train was on time to the minute! The schedule said it would leave at 12:10 and that was EXACTLY when the train left. Amazing! In England it's commonplace for trains to be late all the time!

顔が広い

↓
"To know many people"

日本語の慣用句は英語にあるものかないものがあります。顔が広い...沢山の人を知っていること直訳して"A big face"とは言いません。

↑ 答え: iced coffee
Ice coffeeでは和製英語になります。形容詞にしたicedが正解。発音にも注意しましょう。
