英国ジェントルマン☆ミスター・スミス「これ、ウケる!」NIPPONカルチャー

White day is celebrated in March across Asia, and it is a time for men to reciprocate their feelings. I may not be very romantic, but I have always felt that single roses and candle lit meals have been overused, and are seriously losing their romantic impact as a result. This is why I was pleasantly surprised to read that recently a company in Japan is selling chocolate flavored ramen. I have always thought that noodles are an intrinsically romantic dish anyway, as they bring to mind the spaghetti scene from the Disney movie Lady and the Tramp, but with chocolate the romance is taken to a whole new level! I hope Japan continues to introduce innovative ideas and keep romance fresh.
